Scoring levels

Disclosers are evaluated across four scoring levels, representing stages of environmental maturity:

- Disclosure (D/D-): Measures the completeness of a company's reporting. The number of points allocated to each question depends on both the amount of data requested and their relative importance to data users.
- Awareness (C/C-): Reflects the understanding of how environmental issues relate to the company's activities and impacts. This level indicates awareness but not yet action.
- Management (B/B-): Recognizes evidence of action and processes to manage environmental issues, showing that the company is moving from understanding to implementation.
- Leadership (A/A-): Represents best practice performance, where the Discloser demonstrates environmental leadership through ambitious strategies, verified progress, and sector-leading action.
